

Curriculum Development

Since 1990, The Acorn Group has created award-winning environment-based curricula at the local, state, and national levels. Our years of experience developing programs and materials have allowed us to create an organized and disciplined method of designing curricula that reflects current educational pedagogy and sound academic research in the fields of environmental education, interpretation, and communication.

Projects include design and development of the Zoo Discovery Program for the Los Angeles Zoo (recipient of the 1992 National Education Award by the America Zoo and Aquarium Association); publishing and distribution of World Wildlife Fund's Biodiversity Basics (ranked highest in Science Books & Films by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, 1999); and design and development of materials for numerous clients including the National Park Service, United States Forest Service, and California Department of Education.
